SACC-Ohio visits TechColumbus Business Meeting on September 03, 2008

Join us on September 3 from 5:00pm-7:30pm at TechColumbus for the next SACC-Ohio, Central & Southern Satellite Meeting

Ted Ford, President and CEO of TechColumbus, plans to turn Columbus into a technology hotbed. With tremendous technology and research assets, the region is ripe with potential. TechColumbus is the catalyst focused on accelerating the growth of Central Ohio's innovation economy through strategic advocacy, a robust member services program, world-class business formation and incubation services, access to investment capital, and technology-related real estate development. Columbus' recent ranking in Forbes.com as the #1 up-and-coming tech city suggests that others are taking notice and that the region is looking toward a very bright and innovative future.

Like TechColumbus, SACC-Ohio strives to help its members find business partners and gain access to financing sources. This unique event will provide the opportunity for SACC-Ohio members to network and explore new collaborative relationships.

During this interactive event you will learn more about TechColumbus and its companies, take a tour of the facilities, and participate in one-on-one business match-making with TechColumbus companies and SACC-Ohio members.
